THE BEGINNER RESET PLAN

Your Stance, Guard, and Breathing Baseline

This is your baseline. If you get tired, lost, or out of rhythm during any shadowboxing round, you don't stop - you just come back here. Build your shape from the floor up.

1. THE RESET (YOUR SAFE SPACE)

* Feet Under You: Step back into a solid, balanced base. Keep your feet shoulder-width apart, knees slightly bent, weight distributed 50/50.

* Hands Home: Bring your hands straight back to your face. Knuckles should lightly brush your cheekbones. Elbows tucked in to shield your ribs.

* Chin Tucked: Look forward through your eyebrows. Lower your chin slightly so it is protected by your shoulders.

The Golden Rule: Every punch starts at home, and must return home.

2. SETTING YOUR BASE (THE STANCE)

* Find Your Lead: If you are right-handed, your left foot is forward (Orthodox). If you are left-handed, your right foot is forward (Southpaw).

* The Line Test: Imagine a straight line on the floor. Your front toe should sit on one side of the line, and your rear heel should sit on the other side. Never stand on a tightrope; you will lose your balance.

* The Angle: Turn your chest slightly away from your target (at a 45-degree angle). This makes you a smaller target and aligns your hips for punching power.

3. HOW TO GRAFT: YOUR FIRST 3 SESSIONS

1. Rhythm over Speed: Move to the beat of the music. Punch on the beat, reset on the beat.

2. Breathing: Exhale sharply through your mouth every time you punch. Inhale through your nose when you reset. Never hold your breath.

3. No Screens: Put your headphones in, clear a 6x6 foot space, and listen. Trust your ears, not your eyes.
